Ash Wednesday and the Beginning of Lent: A Season of Honest Reflection and Hope

As February unfolds, our congregation enters a sacred stretch of the Christian year—a time shaped by reflection, renewal, and the quiet work of God within us. This month brings us to Ash Wednesday, the solemn doorway into Lent, and invites us to begin a journey that leads from dust to resurrection, from confession to transformation, from the wilderness to the joy of Easter morning. While winter still lingers outside, the church begins a season of spiritual thawing, opening our hearts to the renewing grace of God.

Ash Wednesday sets the tone for this entire season. With the simple act of receiving ashes on our foreheads, we are reminded of our mortality and our dependence on God. The words spoken over us—“You are dust, and to dust you shall return”—are not meant to discourage but to ground us in truth. They remind us that life is fragile, that we are not self-made, and that our hope rests in the One who formed us from the dust and breathes life into us still. The ashes are not a badge of holiness or a sign of spiritual achievement. They are a shared confession that we all fall short, and a shared hope that God meets us with mercy.

This ancient practice has deep roots. In the early church, Ash Wednesday marked the beginning of a season of repentance for those seeking restoration to the community. Penitents would begin their journey of healing and discipline on this day, culminating in reconciliation on Maundy Thursday. It was also the day when catechumens—those preparing for baptism—were formally enrolled for a period of learning and spiritual formation leading to baptism at Easter. These traditions remind us that Lent has always been a season of turning, learning, and returning to God with open hearts.

Throughout February, as the days slowly lengthen, we join Jesus in the wilderness. We hear again the stories that shape this season: Noah waiting through the flood, Moses receiving the law on Sinai, Elijah journeying to Horeb, Jonah calling Nineveh to repentance, and Jesus facing temptation in the desert. Each of these forty-day journeys teaches us that transformation takes time, intention, and courage. Lent invites us to slow down, to pray more deeply, to fast from what distracts us, and to give generously to those in need. These practices are not burdens but gifts—ways of clearing space in our lives so that God’s renewing work can take root.

At the heart of Lent lies the paschal mystery: the pattern of dying and rising that shapes the life of every Christian. Paul’s bold words, “I die every day,” remind us that following Christ means letting go of the old self so that new life can emerge. Lent gently loosens our grip on the things we cling to—our routines, our comforts, our illusions of control—and invites us to trust the God who brings life out of death. The ashes we receive at the start of the season symbolize not only our mortality but also the promise that God can bring beauty from dust.

As February moves us closer to Holy Week, we begin to look toward the journey that lies ahead: the Upper Room, the cross, the tomb, and the dawn of Easter morning. The path is not always easy, but it is filled with grace. Lent prepares us to walk this path with open eyes and open hearts, ready to encounter the fullness of Christ’s love. The season reminds us that resurrection is not a sudden leap but a steady walk—one shaped by prayer, humility, and trust.

This month, as our congregation gathers for worship, study, service, and fellowship, may we embrace the invitation of Lent with sincerity and hope. Whether this season feels familiar or new, whether it arrives in a time of personal peace or personal struggle, God meets us right where we are. Lent is not about achieving spiritual perfection. It is about opening ourselves to the transforming love of Christ, who walks with us through every wilderness and leads us toward new life.

May this February be a month of honest reflection, renewed commitment, and quiet hope for our church family. As we begin our Lenten journey together, may we discover again the God who meets us in our weakness, walks with us in our searching, and leads us toward the promise of resurrection.

Little's Story Time Team

by Donna Merguc, Coordinator

Littles continues to be a blessing. Kathy Weed said in her sermon I believe to be “blessed” is to be honored and we certainly are honored to be with these little ones and their families each week.

It's always so nice to hear from past families who have attended Littles. Just this week we heard from Traletta, Van's grandmother. Van just celebrated his sixth birthday and enjoying school. Traletta always sends pics too...it warms our hearts.

Allison Persinger, mother of Norman and Walter, gave us a big box of chips. These were donated from our neighborhood IGA grocery store here in St. Albans. Thank you, thank you. Ellen, their grandmother said, “Donna, Norma loves to be read to. One day he brought me a book and out fell the “Hands Go Up” song which we sing every week. Norman ask his grandmother “let's do this grandma”. She said he just loves Littles and looks forward to it each week.

We welcomed Austin Hilbert to Littles this month. She'll be two years old in March. The family lives in St. Albans. We also welcomed Lenora Tucker, a 21-month old little girl who lives in St. Albans. Everleigh, a two-year old has been coming with her grandmother and she is Donna's neighbor. She loves playing with all the toys. Gabriel, Easton and Piper, are the youngest siblings of our Littles. We watch them sleeping in their car seats, then before you know it they are sitting in their chairs to hear the stories, eating their snacks and making their craft. It's very enjoyable to watch them grow and participate.

We are planning a Valentine party on Friday February 13th. We will Share the Love! Come and join us for a lovable time together!

Forgiven and freed by God in Jesus Christ, and empowered by the Holy Spirit, we commit ourselves to:
nurture our faith through prayer and Bible study, support the mission of the church worldwide, work for justice and peace, and build an inclusive, caring community of women that strengthens the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) and witnesses to the promise of God's kingdom.

discovering the pleasure of daily practicing rejoicing in God. All are welcome!
